AGED RESIDENT DIES

Joseph R. Carpenter, Civil War Veteran, Died Thursday Morning.

Thursday morning at his residence on East Front street, Joseph R. Carpenter, veteran of the Civil war and a pioneer contractor of this city, passed away. He was one of the pioneer residents of this city, having lived here the greater part of his long and useful life.

During the war for the union he enlisted in the Sixteenth Kentucky Cavalry and served gallantly throughout the war, and after peace had been declared he located here and engaged in the contracting and building business, having constructed many of the older residences of Maysville.

For the last several years he has not been actively engaged in business. His health failed several months ago and he slowly sank until the end Thursday morning. He is survived by no immediate relatives. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

GUN TOTER INDICTED.

John Moore of Petersburg, Lewis county, was indicted in Circuit Court Wednesday on the charge of carrying concealed weapons.

He was arrested Tuesday night by Patrolman Bloomfield after he had insulted several women in the vicinity of Second and Sutton streets. It is alleged that when arrested he attempted to use the gun on the officer, but was overpowered.

On being taken to headquarters a pint of whisky was found on him and after being cross-examined, admitted obtaining the whisky from a negro at a local tobacco warehouse.

On Wednesday morning he was taken to the warehouse where he identified William Edgar as one of the men who sold him the liquor.

Moore was placed under bond of $300.

ALLEGED BOOTLEGGERS HEAVILY FINED

Men Charged With Unlawfully Selling Liquor Are Given $100 Fines In Magistrate's Court.

Wednesday afternoon, William Edgar and Preston Tompkins, of this city, both colored, were given a fine of $50 and costs in Squirt Fred W. Bauer's court on the charge of bootlegging.

The men were charged by John Moore of near Petersburg, Lewis county, with unlawfully selling liquor. Moore, it is said, went into a luncy stand at a local tobacco warehouse where Edgar works and asked for whisky. Edgar directed him to Tompkins, who was nearby, saying that he could get the "wet" goods from him. Moore says that he approached Tompkins on the subject and bought a pint of whisky from him for $1. Moore, it seems, wished to get some more of the liquor and asked Tompkins, it is alleged, if he had any more for sale. Tompkins, says Moore, offered him a quart for $2, but thinking the price too high, did not take it.

Edgar denies that he told Moore where to get the liquor, saying that Moore came into his place of business and asked him to pull a cork out of a pine bottle, which he did and then asked for a drink, but was refused by Moore. Tompkins says he was not at the warehouse on the day that Moore claims to have purchased the liquor.

Both men declared they would appeal the case to the Circuit Court.

THE LABOR MARKET IN MIDWINTER.

Labor conditions in winter create some peculiar problems in the United States. Skilled labor is rarely unemployed for any length of time. But there is always a large class of seasonal laborers for whom winter brings little but odd jobs and often not those.

The great grain and other crops of this country keep an enormous number of men busy through the summer months for whom there is little or no work in winter. Another great army of men are released by the stoppage of highway work, construction jobs, etc. The condition of these men and their families through the winter is often pitiful.

Summer is the cheapest time to live. In the farming districts great quantities of vegetables and fruits can be had for low prices. The family chicken yard is a great source of dependence until the short days when the hens go on strike. In cold climates it is pathetic to see the high prices the poor have to pay for fuel. In many of the staples the man who has the least money pays the highest prices, through his inability to buy in quantities. Winter brings the seasonal worker up against the most costly living conditions with only odd jobs to depend on.

The only radical remedy is for the seasonal worker to learn some skilled trade which will make his service desirable the year around. This is often impossible because of physical weakness or other incapacity putting men for the strains and tasks of indoor mechanical work. If these were no reserve labor to draw from, the question would arise as to how the great farm staples of the country could ever be harvested.

People who have work of any kind to hire that can be performed in winter would render a public service by having it done at that time when unskilled labor is less well employed than usual. Often they subject themselves to annoying postponements by putting off repairs and improvements until the busy season comes. The equalization of the demand for labor would do a great deal to relieve conditions of distress.

Congressman Park, Democrat, of Georgia, recently addressed the House of Representatives in condemnation of the changes the Democratic administration has made in the rural service. He said: "There is great dissatisfaction because of this delayed delivery of the mails," and again: "Of all the changes made under any administration in any department of the government, this change in the rural route service has created more discontent, dissatisfaction, and antagonism." When criticisms such as this were voiced by Republicans from Northern States, the answer of the Democratic press was that it was mere partisan curping. This expression from a party of the country that has been especially favored by the Postoffice Department, and by a member of the party in power, ought to be accepted as conclusive evidence of the bad management under which our postal service has fallen.

The Congressional Record has too small pages to lay on the pantry shelf or under the parlor carpet, but it weighs very well when the Ladies' Aid Society send around for their old paper collection.

It is claimed that there are $41,000,000 worth of batteries in our coast defenses with no men to handle them; but anyway they are considered useful as points of interest for tourists to visit.

Although there is great danger of this country being infected with the spirit of militarism, it is probably safe to permit the Boy Scouts to parade with broom handles for guns.

Those English generals seem to think it isn't fair to attack an enemy's position without giving thirty days' notice with the exception three insertions in the county newspaper.

The ability of American manufacturers to imitate closely the usual supplies of Swiss and German toys, will as usual be shown in the readiness with which they get smashed up.

It was certainly unkind of people who gave books for Christmas to write their names in with ink, so that they can't be passed on as gifts to somebody else next year.

In view of the threat that automobiles may cost more next year, many people feel it is the only thrifty and prudent course to borrow money to buy one now.

The choice of a vice president never attracts any attention, but thus far the delegates have always remembered to put one in nomination before going home.

The children have been enjoying a good restful holiday vacation by beating on the tin drums that were given them for Christmas.

AVERAGES

Owens & Chandler, Mason county, 1,665 pounds, average $20.38.
Dan Hughes, Mason county, 1,950 pounds, average $22.65.
Average for Week Ending January 1—$10.95.

We don't mind talking about AVERAGES, SPECIAL CROPS, WEEKLY or TOTAL FOR SEASON, because quality tells the tale along that line. Maysville houses all buying the same buyers, and we think the best in the state.

There should not be much difference except where the managers have the PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE IN TOBACCO, and know something about values, and give their customers the benefit of it.

Best Turkey Record.

(Falmouth Outlook.)

Henry Blehn sold to James Gardner thirty-three young turkeys, twenty-four hens and nine gobblers. He received 18 cents per pound, which brought him $88.88, or an average of $2.54. The turkeys averaged fourteen and three-quarter pounds each. This beats all reported local records.

Carlisle's Oldest Citizen.

(Clinton Gazette.)

Richard Porter of Arlington, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Clinton, the guest of his niece, Mrs. Mary E. Johnson. Mr. Porter is perhaps the oldest citizen of Carlisle county, having passed his eighty-eighth birthday last September. He is the only surviving brother of the late Ed H. Lands Good Position.

(Marion Falcon.)

W. R. Matthews, who has been in the insurance business in Lebanon for the last two years, has been appointed manager of the St. Louis office of the National Life Insurance Company, and will leave the first of the year for St. Louis to take charge of the office. He is a courteous gentleman and a live wire in the insurance business and the company has made no mistake in giving him the promotion to this important position. Mrs. Matthews and sister, Miss Carrie Turner, will spend a month in California before joining Mr. Matthews in St. Louis. During their stay in Lebanon they have made many friends, who regret to see them leave Lebanon.

Not 15 Cents For His Crop.

(Mt. Olivet Tribune-Democrat.)

W. O. Duncan of Kentontown, sold his crop of tobacco to a Bracken county buyer at a high-water mark price for the season, receiving 15 cents per pound straight. This is the highest price paid for a Robertson county crop we have heard so far this season. Mr. Duncan is one of the county's leading farmers and successful tobacco growers.

High-toned Tobacco.

(Falmouth Pendleton.)

During the recent flood the water got up into Jason Shoemaker's tobacco barn, and he had to hang the tobacco higher up. When the lower tiers had been raised he found that the water had usurped some of his room and he was compelled to put some of the tobacco in his house. This is aristocratic tobacco and ought to bring a good price on the loose leaf floor.

The Longest Trip.

(Beattyville Enterprise.)

Captain Joe Harris left here Friday morning, December 17, at 11:30, for Frankfort, in charge of train No. 14. By reason of high water and a few other little troubles he was not able to get back until the following Thursday afternoon, and then he barely squeaked through. This reminds us that his brother, Captain Bob, still holds the belt for long trips. Bob left Richmond on fine Monday morning on the first regular train that was ever run on the old L. & A. railroad. He was gone all week and finally Saturday night about dark he came in driving a red-wheeled buggy that he borrowed down on Tates Creek. His train got in the next week tow attacks by Germans on western front. Germans capture French trenches in the Argonne region.

Many farmers have begun to see the light at "THE LIBERTY WAREHOUSE," of Maysville, Ky., which is not in the "COMBINE," and has the largest sales floor in Maysville and second largest in the county. The managers of THE LIBERTY WAREHOUSE promise the farmers nothing more than the best they can do as tobacco warehouse men. We do not claim that which is not ours by right, and have no time to knock other markets, as we are too busy boosting our own sales and the result is that new faces are seen on our sales floor each day and those faces are wearing a smile when their owners leave town.

WHEN THE KIDNEYS FAIL

Maysville People Have Found That III Health Follows

Do you ever feel that you simply can't go any further—that you must have rest from that lame and aching back—relief from the constant, deadened feeling—freedom from those stabbing, darting pains? Likely your kidneys are worn and tired and need help. The kidneys work night and day, removing uric acid from the blood and other waste created by expenditure of strength and energy. Naturally a life of unusual activity doubles the duties of the kidneys and in time the strain generally tells. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought new strength to thousands of bad backs and quick relief to weakened kidneys, so users say. Let them do the same for you.

S. O. Duncan, blacksmith, Flemingsburg, Ky., says: "I had severe backaches and my kidneys were out of order, their action being irregular. Hearing about Doan's Kidney Pills, I gave them a trial and was soon convinced of their merit. They strengthened my kidneys and back."

When the Ahearn battle was postponed it seemed to be all off with Gibbons, but his rapid recovery has put him into excellent form.

STATE LEAGUE MAY COMPRIZE EIGHT CLUBS.

(Portsmouth Star.)

If plans being considered by Joe Carr, president of the Ohio State League, mature, it will comprise eight clubs next season instead of six. In a letter to President W. N. Gableman of the local club Monday, President Carr stated that he would call a meeting of the league this month and that the circuit would be outlined at this meeting.

President Carr believes that a league composed of Portsmouth, Ironton, Ashland and Catlettsburg and Huntington for the eastern half, and Maysville, Frankfort, Lexington and Winchester for the southern half, would work out handsomely and much money would be saved in mileage. If Mr. Carr is able to place a team in Chillicothe, Ashland and Cutletsburg's joint team will be passed up.

Mike Gibbons is entirely recovered and is in lively training for his boat with Young Ahearn, which was postponed last month. The boys will go to it on January 18 for ten rounds at St. Paul. It was thought that Mike was out of the game, for he became discouraged after a long trip in the wood failed to build him up. When the Ahearn battle was postponed it seemed to be all off with Gibbons, but his rapid recovery has put him into excellent form.

The towboat Monitor which passed up Sunday, went directly over the ice piers here, and several people who saw it thought she would scrap or hang on them, but the water was deep enough to allow the big boat to pass over safely.

The Enterprise passed down with a load of Pittsburg coal for New Orleans. The Exporter is coming with coal. The shipments of coal from Pittsburg the last week are the largest for the last year and there is still more coal to be shipped on the present rise.

The business over the local wharves the last year has shown a good increase over 1914, both in freight and passengers. This, no doubt, was owing to the splendid boating stage in the river almost the entire year, there being only a short interval of lay-up of the packets. There promises even better figures for this season, as there will probably be a new line of boats in this trade this year.

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORT OF SECRETARY OF TREASURY.

The annual report of the Secretary of the Treasury as it relates to the Public Health Service, contains numerous recommendations bearing on the functions of that organization and evidences the great interest of this department in the extension and expansion of the governmental agencies for the protection of the public health.

In the development of general public health work, according to the secretary, there is great need of additional medical officers. The number of requests for advice and assistance in health problems received from states and municipalities during the last year has far exceeded that in any similar period in the history of the service, but the limited number of officers available for the work has prevented in many instances compliance with these requests.

The field investigations, the secretary states, have served as a stimulus to state and local health agencies, and every effort should therefore be made to encourage and turn to practical account the interest in health matters awakened in the general public. For this reason an increase in the appropriation for field work is requested.

Also a complete line of all other kinds of soft drinks, teas and confections.

Let Traxel know your wants and he will supply you.

THE PASTIME THEATER.

A splendid cast supported her, making the film a success. "His Buckle" and "Never Again," two comedies, were also shown. Special music also featured.

THE GEM THEATER.

Manager Mills of the Gem, presented his patrons with one of the best programs of the season Wednesday when the famous movie actor, Robert Edeson, was shown in the five-part V. L. S. E. feature, "The Cave Man," produced by the Vitagraph company. The story was full of human interest and delighted the large crowds in attendance.

W. J. Goob of Frankfort, was named secretary of the Kentucky State Fair, to succeed James L. Dent, the incumbent, who withdrew from the race.

The United States is the only government of importance which does not provide for the care and isolation of lepers. The establishment of a national leprosarium where the numerous lepers, most of whom are native born Americans, may be properly segregated and treated, thereby eliminating a menace to the health of others is urged.

Astigmatism, which is a term applied to an eclipse-like curve of the transparent front part of the eye is another cause of eyestrain. In the perfect eye that part is shaped more like a hemisphere. An astigmatic eye must make unequal adjustments with its internal mechanism to compensate for the faulty curve. This is a severe tax upon the little muscles which govern the mechanism. As a result there are a greater number of reflexes, such as headache and neuralgia pains, than in any other form of eye defect. We will examine your eyes. Broken lenses duplicated.
